DETAILED ACTION

Drawings

The drawings are objected to under 37 CFR 1.83(a). The drawings must show every feature of the invention specified in the claims. Therefore, the fluid supply passage, fluid control passage, laterally extending port, and passageway must be shown or the feature(s) canceled from the claim(s). No new matter should be entered.

The drawings are objected to as failing to comply with 37 CFR 1.84(p)(5) because they do not include the following reference sign(s) mentioned in the description: 20, 28, 42.

Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. The figure or figure number of an amended drawing should not be labeled as "amended." If a drawing figure is to be canceled, the appropriate figure must be removed from the replacement sheet, and where necessary, the remaining figures must be renumbered and appropriate changes made to the brief description of the several views of the drawings for consistency. Additional replacement sheets may be necessary to show the renumbering of the remaining figures. Each drawing sheet submitted after the filing date of an application must be labeled in the top margin as either "Replacement Sheet" or "New Sheet" pursuant to 37 CFR 1.121(d). If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

Claims 1-34 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the enablement requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to enable one skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and/or use the invention. The disclosed valve appears intended to close off communication between a "fluid supply passage" and a "fluid control passage". However, the "fluid supply passage" denoted by reference numeral 18 does not appear to be a passage at all, and the nearby annular space does not appear to communicate at all with the solenoid. Also, the "fluid control" passage is supposedly denoted by reference numeral 20, but reference numeral 20 does not appear on the drawings. Likewise, reference numeral 40, which denotes the "passageway" which supposedly communicates with the "fluid control passage", does not appear on the drawings either. Although these types of defects on their own do not automatically render a lack of enablement, the Examiner is unable to ascertain where these elements, which are apparently necessary for the functioning of the device, are depicted on the drawings, or where these elements should be depicted, or how they function, and thus the functioning of the device itself cannot be ascertained.

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 1-34 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Applicant's disclosure is incomplete as discussed supra, to the extent that one of ordinary skill in the art would be incapable of reading the claims in light of the specification. This renders the claims indefinite and also precludes the Examiner from construing the claims with enough precision to be able make a relevant prior art rejection.

Also, claims 14, 25, and 34 each refer to Figures. Claims cannot refer to Figures absent exceptional circumstances. See MPEP 2173.05(s).
